In Remembrance of Leroy Sparks

Leroy Sparks came to be known as "the father of swimming". Due to Leroy's many accomplishments in the field of swimming he was given this title. He coached swimming and diving for years in the Battle Creek Public School system. Sparks had a clear title of distinction, during his time with Battle Creek. His teams won 2 national championships, and 75 All-Americans were produced. In 1967, the year Leroy Sparks passed away, Battle Creek was called "the swimming capital of the world". The first Goguac Lake Swim was held on September 7, 1928.
